As Rosae's advice on your new absorb system rings in your ears, you see Grog take a step... backward? It appears Grog is stepping aside so that you may be the one to enter first, but the question now becomes: Do you trust Grog to let you pass?

Just as soon as you think this, Rosae's voice once again chirps in your ear.

"One last warning before I leave you be, Priscy. I have yet to sort out the precise consequences of this momentous absorb shift, but until I do, you should probably wait until the victory brunch to full absorb anyone," Rosae concludes. "If you would like to continue receiving warnings like this, please activate my official Extra WorningBird function."

Would you like to activate Rosae's more sophisticated function option?

You've paid to unlock the Extra WorningBird function with an in-app purchase.

Unlock Rosae's Extra WorningBird function again, at no additional charge.

No, I won't need this bonus feature.
